

Degnet Abebaw (PhD)

Biography

Degnet joined the Ethiopian Economic Policy Research Institute (EEPRI) as a Senior Researcher in 2006. Prior to joining EEPRI, he worked at Jimma University (Ethiopia) as a Lecturer and as an Assistant Professor of Agricultural Economics and also as Head of the Research and Publications Office. His research spans poverty and food security, agriculture and natural resources, technology adoption, child health and education, gender, and impact evaluation. He has several papers published in peer-reviewed journals like Food Policy, Journal of Development Effectiveness, Journal of International Development, Forest Policy and Economics, Journal of Developing Areas, Ethiopian Journal of Economics, African Development Review, and Outlook on Agriculture. He holds a PhD degree in Agricultural Economics from the University of Bonn (Germany) and MSc and BSc degrees in Agricultural Economics from Alemaya University (Ethiopia).